Legals Only

$650.00

Literally that, the legals only.

Legals only ceremonies are extremely popular with couples who wish to marry overseas.

It is important to remember, if you are an Australian Citizen, and you marry overseas, your marriage won't be registered here, which can cause all sorts of extra paperwork if you wish to change your name and so on.

A way around this is to have a Legals Only wedding in Australia first, so that you are legally married and registered here, and then go overseas and have your dream celebration in the country of your choice.

Legals Only Package Includes:

- Initial in-person meeting to sign legal documentation and sight the required identification in readiness for the validation of marriage.
- After one month, the service will take place in my office with two witnesses present.
- Prompt completion and submission of all legal documentation within 48 hours post-ceremony.

Elopement

£790.00

This is for those couples who want to run away and escape the extravagance of a "big do" and have a romantic escape.

The best thing about an elopement is that they are affordable, and they are ideal for couples who don't have the time, the money or desire to have a huge expensive "do."

You just choose your location; it could be your favourite park, your back garden, or the beach, and I will do the rest.

You may bring a few close family and friends to witness your moment, very much like a Registry Office wedding, but much more personalised to you, and at the venue of your choice.

I will prepare all the legal paperwork and documentation needed to validate your marriage.

On the big day, I'll bring my PA system to set the mood with tunes and vows whether it's a remote, rustic rock in the mountains, or a gorgeous terrace at sunset, and if need be, I will even supply two friendly witnesses!

Remember, gazing into your partners eyes and vowing eternal love is a moment that beats all the fancy frills—it's the heart of the celebration!
