Aussie Marriages

Michael Treacy
Registered Civil Marriage Celebrant

For your special day

Getting married should be a beautiful and fulfilling time although it can also be a stressful experience. I understand your concerns that everything needs to go well on the day. You want your family and friends to remember your marriage as a happy, meaningful day with laughter and smiles – and perhaps some sighs of emotional joy as well. An exceptional celebrant can bring all the good energies together and make your ceremony one that is a stand-out success. To achieve this, I invest as much time as needed to create a ceremony with you that is above and beyond your expectations.

Testimonials

Read the comments of some couples that I have married – all have had the experience of a great wedding, whether on a budget or where no expense is spared.

The wedding was beautiful, wasn't it? It really was everything we wanted it to be. Thanks so much for your calming presence and good advice – we always felt like we were in good hands and you helped us feel relaxed on the day! You have a dignified presence and helped make the wedding a meaningful occasion for us and our families.

Felicity and Alexander

From the first email, through all of the preparations, to the wedding day itself, Michael was very easy to talk to and a calm and supportive presence who helped us have exactly the type of ceremony we were after. He was also a great help with our enquiries about immigration and other related paperwork issues. We were both very grateful that we chose Michael to be our celebrant and would happily recommend him.

Stewart and Imali

Michael brought just the right spirit of reverence and dignity to our wedding we were hoping for. He was meticulous about details and always had a "plan B" ready, even when we didn't expect (sound system, batteries, etc.). He is incredibly organised and well-prepared. We had enough to worry about leading up to the big day, and Michael went above and beyond to make sure things went smoothly.
