INFO ABOUT

- Uplighting (or mood lighting) is one of our most popular choices for wedding lighting.
- With uplighting you can change the entire look of your wedding reception location, use the colours to enhance your styling, and provide your guests with some much needed lighting without losing the romantic feel of the room.
- Changing the colour of the Uplighting in a room will also create a completely different look, and you're not restricted to using the same colour throughout the entire room. Using more than one colour can create amazing results.
