And so the adventure begins!

Congratulations you're engaged!

After all the dust settles, the excitement of arranging your big day begins...

But where on earth do you start?

Well, Thyme and Twine Events have you covered!

We are a Sydney based wedding planning company with a mission to make this a stress free time by helping you put all the pieces together, no matter what stage of your wedding planning journey you're at. This is your day to enjoy with your loved ones, so let us take on the organisation and stressful jobs, we're experts and we secretly love this stuff.

Oh hey!

Hi, I'm Kelly!

I have been in the events industry for over 7 years, and after planning my very own dream wedding I knew that I wanted to share the same support and care to other brides and grooms, to take all the worries out of the day.

I have always had a love for styling and can create something out of anything. I am very detail orientated, organised and love a good spread sheet (nerd alert!). These are some of the tools I use to help make sure the lead up to the event, and the big day itself runs smoothly.

The handsome furry guy in the pic with me is my partner in crime, Trooper. He's my best friend and makes sure I'm keeping on top of my work, and is happy to offer his services if anyone needs a cake tasting buddy.

I cant wait to get to know you and hear about your vision, style and wedding dreams!
